PHILOSOPHY OF FUSION

ent Now as Then. The Plan of Republic canism What They Schemed To Do-Some Lively and Striking Illustrations

You have published the views of many of your numerous correspond nts on co-operating again with the Republican party, but they seem to meentirely out of harmony with the true principles of reform, and by no means suited to existing conditions. No true reformer really favored 'fusion" in the last campaign, because we had no confidence in either of the old parties; but we had on our a corrupt political party had control of the entire election machinery and the courts, and we knew that no other party could, under such conditions, carry an election unless some plan could be devised by which we could make the Democrats ig-norant of our strength and make it so large as to put it beyond their

The Republicans desired the same changes in the election laws and the county government, and this made suble. We knew that they over-rated their strength and underrated ours, and were willing to fuse, not for any love for us or our cause, but because they saw in it a possible chance to get control of our State government again. As it was no endorsement of their bad conduct, having confidence in our 'movement and its power to win, we were wil ling to run the risk. I, for one, feared they might do something that would east odium on our party and thereby cripple our chances for sucwith the results. But it must be borne in mind that we had the balance of power and held them in check, else results might have been different. I am net, therefore, ready to pursue a course that will jeopardize our interest or destroy our oneness as a party of reform. But the party of "perfidy and dishonor" essary again. But whether under the advantages gained in the last election and the familiarity of the public with our principles and conduet, they can do this I am glad to be able to doubt! As stated above I believe in the ultimate triumph of right, but also believe that God helps those only who help themselves. Hence, I must believe that while right will surely come in the end, it can come soone by using every honest expedient that may from time to time appear. But is to amend the Constitution so that people, and started a boom for Quay the expedient should be HONEST! and I seriously doubt the honesty or wisdom of further fusion with either of the old parties in this State, or out. unless the conditions so plainly demand it as to leave no suspicion of a surrender of our principles. NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Chronic Catarrh a Cause-A Malady Pe-Debility of the nervous system from intemperate habits of any kind or ex-posure to cold is quite likely to cause a condition of the nervous membranes of the nose and throat so nearly re-sembling catarrh that they are practilly identical. Also chronic diseases which depress the system will produce the same result, notably female weaks. They cause a fleshy, pale condi-n of the mucous surfaces, with a sticky, stringy mucous secretion, which produces much hawking or coughing, generally called catarrh; but the whole trouble is caused by nerous depression, pure and simple.

Beside the usual symptoms of ca-arrh, the patient has brown specks arrh, the patient has brown specks before the eyes, slight dizziness, roaring in the ears, attacks of nervous sheadache, palpitation of the heart, adache, palpitation of the heart, shes of heat, followed by slight chilly dency, foolish fears, and many er similar symptoms. On the tracks near this building were many cars. These were all pulled away save a passenger car, three box cars, and a flat loaded with lumber. These were damaged little. In one box car were 50 bales of compressed cotton, from Hamlet, bound foreign. This was damaged to the amount of perhaps large number passed.

In the building, which was destroyed, were the machine shop, the blacksmith room, with the steam hammer, and the boiler-making room; also the engines, boilers and electric light dynamos, etc. Master Mechanic Maglenn estimates the loss on machinery at $35,000. Division Superintendent Moncure estimates the loss on the building at $15,000. The walls of the building are intact, and show only one small crack. They are admirably built.
